

NAGY & TRÓCSÁNYI

Nagy and Trócsányi (N&T), one of Hungary's largest and oldest law firms, was founded on 29 September 1992.

Press Release

Budapest, 08 Aug 2017.

Nagy és Trócsányi, a dominant player in Hungary's commercial legal market, was founded 25 years ago, just when the country's market economy was taking shape.

Since then, N&T has established itself as one of the most successful domestic firms, specializing in litigation, banking, project finance, mergers and acquisitions, energy and property law.

"When we established the firm, our aim was to perform high-quality work and solve complex issues. This remains our guiding principle to this day," says Péter Nagy, one of the founding partners. "We are problem solvers," says Nagy. "When others have run out of ideas, clients turn to us," he adds.

During the course of N&T's 25-year tenure, the firm has consistently provided a high standard of legal services, with its dispute resolution, corporate and banking law practices being consistently ranked among Hungary's highest ranked by Legal 500 and Chambers. Clients included some of the largest European and global firms, such as Nomura Bank, Lehman Brothers, Samsung, Strabag, Erste, CIB, Unicredit, Raiffeisen, Philip Morris, Teva, and Coca-Cola, Booking.com, American Express, Uber, Marks and Spencer, LG, Canon, DAF, Givaudan, BASF, Skanska, Kemira, Hungerit, BBDO, Invitel and Honda, to name a few.

As an independent firm, N&T is the Hungarian partner of some of the world's most respected law firms, such as Slaughter and May and Latham and Watkins. Nagy and Trócsányi is member of the Lex Mundi network, a web of independent law firms ranked the in their jurisdiction.

"In addition to our renowned litigation practice, our core business is advising in commercial and corporate transactions ranging from M&A to labor and competition law", says Peter Berethalmi, managing partner.

Since receiving its first public sector engagement from Hungary's first democratically elected government, the firm has worked on significant matters for each subsequent government.

One of the firm's partners, Prof. Zoltán Csehi, now on leave of absence, currently serves as judge on the European Court of Justice. Another partner, Prof. László Trócsányi, also on leave of absence since 10+ years served as Hungary's ambassador to Belgium and France and, currently, as minister of justice.

A short introduction to the Nagy és Trócsányi

N&T is Hungary's biggest independent law firm, dealing with local and international transactions, commercial litigation, finance, banking and corporate matters, energy issues, competition law, tax and bond matters. Founded by Péter Nagy and László Trócsányi, the mission of the firm is to offer refined legal services to its clients. As the Hungarian member of Lex Mundi, a global organization of leading independent law firms, N&T has access to more than 21,000 legal advisors, allowing it to provide optimal legal solutions. In addition to its headquarters in Budapest, Nagy and Trócsányi maintains offices in New York. At the firm momentarily work 25 lawyers among them 10 equity partners.

NAGY AND TRÓCSÁNYI CELEBRATES 25 YEARS

Nagy and Trócsányi (N&T), one of Hungary's largest and oldest law firms, was founded on 29 September 1992.

Press Release

Budapest, 08 Aug 2017.

Nagy és Trócsányi, a dominant player in Hungary's commercial legal market, was founded 25 years ago, just when the country's market economy was taking shape.

Since then, N&T has established itself as one of the most successful domestic firms, specializing in litigation, banking, project finance, mergers and acquisitions, energy and property law.

"When we established the firm, our aim was to perform high-quality work and solve complex issues. This remains our guiding principle to this day," says Péter Nagy, one of the founding partners. "We are problem solvers," says Nagy. "When others have run out of ideas, clients turn to us," he adds.

During the course of N&T's 25-year tenure, the firm has consistently provided a high standard of legal services, with its dispute resolution, corporate and banking law practices being consistently ranked among Hungary's highest ranked by Legal 500 and Chambers. Clients included some of the largest European and global firms, such as Nomura Bank, Lehman Brothers, Samsung, Strabag, Erste, CIB, Unicredit, Raiffeisen, Philip Morris, Teva, and Coca-Cola, Booking.com, American Express, Uber, Marks and Spencer, LG, Canon, DAF, Givaudan, BASF, Skanska, Kemira, Hungerit, BBDO, Invitel and Honda, to name a few.

As an independent firm, N&T is the Hungarian partner of some of the world's most respected law firms, such as Slaughter and May and Latham and Watkins. Nagy and Trócsányi is member of the Lex Mundi network, a web of independent law firms ranked the in their jurisdiction.

"In addition to our renowned litigation practice, our core business is advising in commercial and corporate transactions ranging from M&A to labor and competition law", says Peter Berethalmi, managing partner.

Since receiving its first public sector engagement from Hungary's first democratically elected government, the firm has worked on significant matters for each subsequent government.

One of the firm's partners, Prof. Zoltán Csehi, now on leave of absence, currently serves as judge on the European Court of Justice. Another partner, Prof. László Trócsányi, also on leave of absence since 10+ years served as Hungary's ambassador to Belgium and France and, currently, as minister of justice.

A short introduction to the Nagy és Trócsányi

N&T is Hungary's biggest independent law firm, dealing with local and international transactions, commercial litigation, finance, banking and corporate matters, energy issues, competition law, tax and bond matters. Founded by Péter Nagy and László Trócsányi, the mission of the firm is to offer refined legal services to its clients. As the Hungarian member of Lex Mundi, a global organization of leading independent law firms, N&T has access to more than 21,000 legal advisors, allowing it to provide optimal legal solutions. In addition to its headquarters in Budapest, Nagy and Trócsányi maintains offices in New York. At the firm momentarily work 25 lawyers among them 10 equity partners.